"His Story"
(Obituary)

Andrew L. Wormely Jr. was born July 18, 1956 in San Francisco, California to the proud parents of Andrew L. Wormely Sr. and Lois L. Wormely. He was the youngest and only son of this union. He received his education in the public schools in San Francisco, California. At a young age, Andrew always had an interest in music. Starting with the drums, the folk guitar, the guitar, and then moving onto the bass guitar.

As a young man, Andrew started his music career in the church where he was a member of the Little Chapel C.O.G.I.C. under the leadership of Bishop L.E. Cleaver and then Elder Robert Collier. Andrew played for Bay Area Churches such as Pentecostal Temple, Bishop Stewart, Jerusalem C.O.G.I.C., Eldet L. C. Patton, and Light House C.O.G.I.C., Elder Wesley. He played for Poly Tech High School Choir under the direction of Johnny Lane. He also played for various groups such as New Generation, The Heavenly Family, The Clinton-Logan Singers, and the Sons of Little Chapel.

He moved to Stockton, CA. where he worked at John Deer and attended Eastside C.O.G.I.C. and Evangelistic C.O.G.I.C., where he accepted Christ as his personal savior. While in Stockton, he played for such groups as the Clay Johnson Singers and others. Andrew moved back to the Bay Area and played for G.C. and Company, The Corinthians, and many more. Andrew yet remained a member of the Little Chapel C.O.G.I.C. under the leadership of Elder J. King Jr.

Andrew married Rachelle Whitfield on Sept. 12, 1998. Together they raised four children, LaNeisha, Jacquetta, Andrew III, and James.

Jr. was very gifted and didn't mind sharing his gift with others. He introduced and taught many how to play the bass guitar. Jr. was well liked and loved by many. He will always be remembered for his humor, personality, and ability to make anyone laugh. He was a loving husband, a caring father, and a friend to many. He will be missed by all that loved him.

He leaves to cherish his memory, his loving wife Rachelle Wormely, his loving mother, Lois Wormely, mother-in-law, Viola Whitfield, sister, Andrea Jackson, brother-in-law Keith Jackson, 4 children, LaNeisha, Jacquetta, Andrew III, James, 1 grandchild, Mauriana, 4 brother-in-laws, Michael Whitfield (Sandra), TX, Patrick Whitfield (Toni), Cordelia, Marc Whitfield (Kerrie), Antioch, Andre Johnson, Lathrop, nieces, nephews, God-children, a host of other relatives, loving friends, and church family.
